

Delivery Tips — Talk No. 4

Core idea

Jesus' authority was never self-promoting or crushing. It was quiet, just, and tender. The delivery should feel the same: confident, unhurried, and warm.

What to memorise

1. The memory path: SEE → READ → JUSTICE → QUIET → TENDER → JEHOVAH → REASON → CARE → HANDOFF.
2. Both video setup questions and the first sentence after each video.
3. The exact reading cue for Isaiah 42:1-4.
4. The “bruised reed / smouldering wick” explanation.
5. The three-part landing and exact symposium handoff.

Rehearsal passes

1. Content pass: Deliver from the guide without a timer. Check that every outline point is present.
2. Media pass: Practise the exact video cues, allow the final frame to settle, then resume without repeating the whole clip.
3. Timing pass: Use the actual English file runtimes, not only the rounded outline times.
4. Warmth pass: Record yourself. The bruised-reed portion should sound tender, not clinical.
5. Platform pass: Practise turning naturally toward the next speaker for the handoff.

Voice and body

- Opening/video authority: firm and expectant.

- Isaiah reading: slower than ordinary speech; stress justice, crushed reed, smoldering wick, and faithfulness.
- Religious leaders / Jesus contrast: do not sound contemptuous.
- Applications: increase eye contact and shorten sentences.
- Humour: use only one of the two light lines in the manuscript if it comes naturally. Do not wait for laughter.

Recovery bridges

- After Video 1: "That was power under perfect control."
- Into fulfilment: "How was every part of Isaiah's prophecy fulfilled?"
- Into applications: "What does the Messiah's manner teach us?"
- If a thought is lost: "Notice again the balance in Isaiah's picture."
- Final recovery: "Give Jehovah the attention, people the evidence, and the discouraged tender care."

Final checklist

- | Video operator has the two exact English files in order.
- | Isaiah 42:1-4 is marked and opens quickly.
- | No other scripture is presented as a formal audience reading.
- | The videos and Isaiah reading are included in the rehearsal clock.
- | The next speaker's name and readiness are confirmed.
- | Finish at 17:00 without adding comments after the handoff.
