The Ashburton territory has a significant Tagalog-speaking population with publishers and Bible students who depend on the language for spiritual instruction and progress. There is a stable and spiritually mature core of fluent publishers, including appointed brothers, capable of providing shepherding and caring for congregation responsibilities. The field has demonstrated sustained growth and continued disciple-making potential, making it appropriate to strengthen the arrangement by forming a congregation.

6. List the existing congregations directly involved in this proposal, namely, those whose territory boundaries are affected or the congregation that has been hosting a group now being recommended as a new congregation. (If more lines are needed, list the additional congregations on page 2.)
